

CATHOLICS
TERRORIZED
IN MEXICOPolice Hope to Execute
Obregon Slayer
Next Week

Mexico City, July 21.—(AP)—Police today were tightening the net of evidence against Jose de Leon Toral hoping to send him before a firing squad next week for the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon.

It was expected that a public civil trial of the slayer would be started soon after the expiration on Monday of a writ of amparo, or injunction restraining police and military authorities from taking any action against the slayer.

Investigation into the various phases of the killing went forward as additional arrests were made.

Terror Among Catholics

"The investigation will continue upon the same line that has marked it hitherto—that is, the responsibility of the Catholic clergy," said General Antonio Rios Zertuche, Chief of Police.

The newspaper El Sol asserts that terror prevails in Catholic circles. This is said to be particularly true in Guadalupe, where the shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe, Mexico's patron saint, is situated. Catholic priests of the shrine who since the religious laws became effective have performed no services but, dressed as laymen, have continued to live in the vicinity, are said to have gone into hiding.

Some members of the Knights of Columbus, a number of priests and the Sacristans of the Shrine are known to have been questioned by police. No report of their examination has been made public.

Persons expressing any sentiment against Obregon are being watched closely. A woman, believed to be a housemaid, was overheard by a policeman to say:

"Thank God Obregon is dead" and was promptly arrested.

A Religious Fanatic

Newspapers assert that all information points to Toral being a religious fanatic. In certain quarters it is thought that this fanaticism might have been played upon by political enemies of General Obregon with the idea of making it appear that the slaying had a religious motivation.

Antonio Soto Gama, spokesman for the National Agrarian party, said the editors of El Universal: "We want President Calles to understand that the situation is most grave, the country is on the brink of civil war and the denial of justice in Obregon's death means war with all its consequences."

El Universal Grafico printed what was claimed to be a stenographic report of President Calles' examination of the assassin shortly after the crime. In reply to Calles' question as to his motive the slayer was quoted as replying:

"I killed General Obregon at the command of Christ, the King, in order that the laws of his religion might reign in Mexico."

"What influences caused the crime?"

"That I will not reveal."

"Who were your accomplices?"

"I had none. I did it alone. If I had had accomplices, there would have been a skirmish."

"How did you imagine you would fare in this struggle?"

"I expected to die, but at present you see I am still alive. This proves everything is directed by the Divine spirit."

"Have you parents, a wife or relatives?"

"Yes, I have, but this is a matter of no interest to you but only to me and my God."

"What is your name?"

"They call me Juan."

"Your last name?"

"That hasn't the least interest to you or anybody else. My name is simply Juan, nothing else."

The newspaper said that at this point the President decided the assassin was a religious mystic and gave up further questioning as useless.

A dispatch to El Universal said that the funeral train bearing the body of General Obregon was delayed while crossing through the state of Nayarit by obstructions in a tunnel burned some time ago by insurgents. The body had to be transferred to another special train.

STARTING HOME WITH BODY OF
MRS. WARNER

Attorney H. C. Warner has received word from Ketchikan, Alaska, where his mother, Mrs. A. C. Warner, passed away Thursday night, to the effect that Misses Florence Bosworth and Gratia and Laura Rogers, who were with her when she died, hoped to be able to leave that city today with the body, the success of their plan depending on their ability to complete arrangements with the immigration authorities there. In case they are able to leave Ketchikan today they will arrive Vancouver Monday night, where Attorney Robert L. Warner, who left Dixon last Tuesday immediately on receipt of his mother's illness, is awaiting them.

SUNDAY THE LAST
SESSIONS OF 1928
BIBLE CONFERENCE

Large Crowds Expected at Assembly Park
Tomorrow

By the familiar notes of the sweet-toned Tabernacle bell, the crowds will assemble to-morrow afternoon and evening for the last sessions of the 1928 Bible Conference. Morning services will be held in some of the city churches, with an assembly in Chautauqua Hall for the Park people, in charge of Dr. Zartman and S. D. Gordon.

But in the afternoon at two, and again at six-fifty-five, the largest convocations of the whole eight days are anticipated. Very few towns and villages within fifty miles of Dixon have been unrepresented during the week, and the attendance reached out besides to a distance that embraced ten other States.

The quaint Scotch evangelist, John McNeill of Los Angeles has divided with the philosopher-prophet-poet, S. D. Gordon the honors of the Conference's leadership in the Program. He gave his last address at three this afternoon, while Mr. Gordon remains to the close. Dr. McNeill, more than any other man who has visited the Park during the three years, has pursued a direct and continuous objective in his work, viz., that of overcoming the lethargy, complacency, and materialistic "dry-out," as he calls it, that threaten the life of the churches. No listener can fail to see in the Doctor's make-up and message a minister who is "incubally evangelistic," and ever learning to see Christian people attain and retain the highest degree of holiness before God.

Walter Jenkins and Miss Tripp will remain to the end of the Conference, and Sunday evening will bring a special hour's presentation of the older standard church music, assisted by a chorus that had grown out of the School of Music they conducted each afternoon.

Bishop Fisher Coming

This afternoon and to-morrow the new figure on the platform will be that of Bishop Fred B. Fisher of the Methodist Episcopal Church's India territory. Tomorrow he will discuss the country of India, which has come into prominent notice of late, due to the misunderstanding the Indian people are claiming is widespread because of a certain American book on their customs and life. Bishop Fisher will speak as one informed and sympathetic toward the land where he labors in a Christian service. His first address is this evening at seven, preceded by Miss Constance Brandon of New York who represents the World Dominion Mission.

Tomorrow's schedule will be:

2:00 Miss Brandon

2:30 S. D. Gordon

3:00 Bishop Fisher

6:45 Special Jenkins-Tripp Song Hour

7:30 Bishop Fisher

At all evening sessions, and usually in the afternoon, the free-will offerings have been received toward the Conference expenses. Last night, the Rev. Hancock of Polo, member of the Board of Directors made a short personal appeal, and increased the collections to two hundred dollars.

Collections to-day and Sunday will most probably not only meet the full cost of this year's Conference, but entirely wipe out a deficit of several hundred dollars remaining from the previous two years. Great credit for the success is due to the direction of the enterprise is due to the Secretary, Brandellner, and President, Marshall. These two pastors have easily led all others in the energetic personal effort they have contributed, not only during the sessions, but for weeks preceding.

The heartiest of co-operation has obtained at all times between the Bible Conference and the Annual Chautauqua. The latter opened up Monday afternoon for its five-day Program, with the running concurrently.

The Chautauqua sessions are afternoon and evening, and the School of Missions will use the forenoons principally.

Funeral For Former

Amboy Man Tuesday

The funeral of Dr. Dean Phillips, former Amboy man, who died while he slept at his apartment in Chicago Wednesday night, will be held at Prairie Rest cemetery at Amboy next Tuesday afternoon, the body being brought from Chicago to Mendota on that day, and then overland to the Amboy funeral. The delay in holding the funeral is occasioned by the absence of Mrs. Phillips who had left for a California visit but a few days before her husband's sudden passing.

Dr. Phillips was born and raised in Amboy and had many friends in that vicinity and also in and around Franklin Grove, who will mourn his passing. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Ellen and Marion, two sons, Miss Cora Phillips and Mrs. Fred Gates, and four grandchildren.

TODAY'S MARKET REPORTS

Chicago Produce

Chicago, July 21—(AP)—Poultry: alive, easy; receipts 3 cars; fowls 22; springs 32; broilers 26; spring ducks 19; spring geese 16@20.
Butter: unchanged; receipts 19075 tubs.
Eggs: unchanged; receipts 11,333 cases.
Potatoes: receipts 46 cars; on track 182 cars; total U. S. shipments 773 cars; trading rather slow; market a trifle firmer on sacks; steady on barrels; Kansas and Missouri sacked Irish cobbler 70@75; new fancy 80; Virginia barreled Irish cobbler 2.20.

Butter Market

Chicago, July 21—(AP)—Only the relatively light receipts are keeping supplies of butter from showing accumulation. Largely as a result, many in the trade are apparently somewhat nervous, but any attempt to establish the price basis on a lower level has resulted in sufficient buying response to hold values unchanged.
General opinion is that production is on about the same level as last year. For the most part, consumption is fairly favorable. There has been an evident attempt, particularly on the part of the larger retail distributors to hold the spread between wholesale and retail values to the minimum margin. This has been of considerable effect in sustaining consumer demand, although wholesale prices have been consistently above a year ago.

Watching the Big Scoreboard

When it comes to losing streaks, Burt Shotton's futile Phils can give any team in the National League, including the Boston Braves, aces and spades, and still have better than any club in the circuit has developed to such a degree the difficult art of kicking away ball games.

When the Quakers bowed to the Cardinals at St. Louis yesterday, 5 to 4, it marked their twelfth consecutive defeat, eight of them, including the last three, by one run.

This streak of reverses is the most successful the Phils have been able to engineer this season.

Six games to the rear of the leaders "the New York Giants" moved into second place by taking over the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3.

Red Lucas made the Braves jump through hoops all afternoon as the Cincinnati Reds evened the series, 4 to 3, and moved to within a game of the third-place Cubs.

The Pittsburgh Pirate took it on the chin again at the hands of the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 7, in a wild, free-hitting game.

The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the St. Louis Browns 4 to 0.

Washington rallied in the late innings to defeat Detroit, 7 to 4. After Sorrell, starting Tiger Hurler, had forced home the tying runs in the fifth, the Senators pounded Elam Van Gilder, Sorrell's would-be rescuer, for the winning runs in the sixth and seventh.

DELIVER BODY OF CARRANZA TO HIS PEOPLE

Body of Mexican Airman Turned Over to Mexico at Laredo

Laredo, Texas, July 21—(AP)—The body of Captain Elinio Carranza, Mexican airman, was given into the keeping of his own people at 9:30 this morning on the international bridge here.

The ceremony at the border marked the end of a series of demonstrations of sympathy and grief in this country in tribute to the Mexican flyer. Captain Carranza crashed in New Jersey a week ago while attempting a non-stop flight from New York to Mexico City after paying this country a good will visit—a return of the visit Col. Charles A. Lindbergh made to Mexico.

For the time Captain Carranza's body was found by berry pickers until the climax at the bridge here today the military forces of the nation extended themselves to honor him.

On the long trip from New York squadrons of airplanes from army fields along the route took to the air and dropped flowers as the funeral train passed. At San Antonio yesterday the Second Army Division and a squadron of 100 planes honored the cortege.

Superior, Wis., July 21—(AP)—The suggestion of an international conference at which the anti-war treaty now under negotiation with the chief nations of the world finally would be concluded and signed by the participating governments, appeal to President Coolidge.

Secretary of State Kellogg has suggested to Mr. Coolidge that such suggestion has come from several European governments and that Paris has been proposed as a suitable capital in which to hold the gathering. While the state department has had no conclusion as yet regarding it, President Coolidge is inclined to think a ceremony of this kind would enhance greatly the prestige of the treaty and would emphasize its importance to all nations of the world.

The Chief Executive is heartened by the favorable response given Mr. Kellogg's last draft of the treaty by the majority of the fourteen powers to which it was addressed. Successful conclusion of such a pact now is considered a foregone conclusion. Under its terms the signatory nations would agree to renounce war "as an instrument of national policy" and would bind themselves to seek settlement of future disputes only through peaceful channels.

Customers Please Note Billing Change

In order to handle our customers' accounts more satisfactorily, we have changed our system of reading meters and rendering bills.

Instead of all meters being read during the same period each month, the meter reading will be continuous.

Under the new system, the meter will be read and billed only once each month. This method will also avoid the inconvenience to customers of having to wait in paying bills as has been the case when all customers paid their bills during the same short period, each month.

In the future, bills will be submitted to each customer about the same time of the month as the current bill to each customer is respectively due.

To secure the advantage of paying only the net amount of the current bills on those which are dated July 14th or prior, it is necessary to pay them on or before July 24th. To secure this advantage on all bills dated July 16th or later, it will be necessary to pay them within 10 days of the respective dates of the bills.

On all future bills, the net amount only can be accepted in payment when they are paid WITHIN TEN DAYS OF THEIR RESPECTIVE DATES. Please do not overlook the fact that the new system will probably change your net payment date.

Only for this first time under the new system, bills may cover a longer or a shorter period of consumption than usual and in some instances may come to a customer soon after the last bill. If either is the experience, as the meter reading dates on the current bill show, it covers a later and a different period of actual consumption.

Please take into account that the cashier's office will be open only from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon on any week day of the month.

ANTI-WAR TREATY CONFERENCE HAS COOLIDGE FAVOR

HOW DID YOU FIGHT AND WHY?

Did you tackle that trouble that came your way?
With a resolute heart and cheerful?
Or hide your face from the light of day?

With a craven soul and fearful?
Oh, a trouble's a ton, or a trouble's an ounce.

Or a trouble is what you make it;
And isn't the fact that you're hurt that counts?

But only how did you take it?
You are beaten to earth? Well, well, what's that?

Come up with a smiling face.
It's nothing against you to fall down flat.

But to lie there—that's disgrace.
The harder you're thrown, why the harder you bounce.

Be proud of your blackened eye;
It isn't the fact that you're licked that counts.

It's how did you fight—and why?

Bridge Made Easy

BY W. W. WENTWORTH
Double and Redouble.

Doubles may be divided into two classes: Informative doubles and Business doubles.

Your opponent has declared a no trump or a suit. You do not hold sufficient strength in any one suit to overbid and yet with little assistance from partner you may be holding a game-going hand. To find the best game-going declaration you doubt and call upon your partner to make a declaration. This is called the informative double.

The informative double of a suit bid proclaims weakness in that suit and strength in at least two remaining suits.

The informative double of a no trump guarantees the holding of a no trump hand.

A double of one no trump or of three or less of a suit bid is informative if made at the first opportunity and providing partner has not previously bid.

The double, however, must be sound. A safe guide for doubling a suit is 2½ quick tricks and for a no trump three quick tricks. These requirements may be slightly shaded if your hand contains compensatory padding as Jacks, tens and nines. If in doubt do not double.

Hundreds of players double without giving any thought to the outcome thereof. Before doing so you must be prepared for any declaration your partner may make. His your campaign previously outlined if the answer should prove unsatisfactory. Unless you are prepared for any answer partner may make, do not double informatively.

Short Interviews With Famous Women

By NEA Service

American girls are the coming czars of fashion, in the opinion of Ethel Traphagen, eminent artist and head of her own school of designing.

"I agree with Lady Duff-Gordon who recently declared 'The future of fashion designing lies in America, for where money and leisure are, in the larger sense there is where artists flourish,'" Miss Traphagen said.

"American women understand American psychology. The growth of American trade is bringing American designers to the fore. Therefore there are increasing opportunities in the field of designing for the American girl."

"A keen appreciation of line and color is a necessary first-equipment of one who would design costumes," she continued.

"I believe American costumes should use designs created from ideas garnered at American museums and libraries. My pupils also actually study the materials with which Americans manufacturers must work. A knowledge of pliability, weight and texture of their fabrics and the practical uses of all designs should be considered before sketches are offered manufacturers."

"It doesn't matter whether the real purpose of the occasion is conversation, dining, listening to a speaker, or what, the music is there at us; we are not invited to listen; nobody listens to music anymore because it is like air—it's always there; why bother about it?"

"Music is so big, so real, so vital a thing that it demands recognition in its own right, not as a mere accompaniment to conversation or food or most anything else we do first."

Mrs. Seiberling firmly believes that the more good music a nation has the less crime it will have.

"The child is father of the man," she says, "and a child who has been reared on real music will be a good man."

Auxiliaries Held Picnic at Franklin

The American Legion Auxiliaries of Lee County held a picnic at Franklin Grove Wednesday. The Legion ladies of Franklin Grove had secured the camp ground dining hall, temple and swimming pool, for this occasion. Although it rained the greater part of the day, there were more than one hundred members and guests registered. Dinner was served at 12:30. The tables fairly groaned under the burden of appetizing food. The menu left nothing to be desired.

The business meeting was held in the temple at 2:30. Mrs. Susannah Pettitt of Morrison, District Committee woman, was present. Mrs. Pettitt gave a very interesting talk concerning Auxiliary work and spoke of the state convention to be held at Waukegan, Sept. 10 and 11. She expressed herself as pleased with the work taken up by the Lee county council.

Mrs. Louise Seidel, county hospital chairman, reported 1,100 wash cloths ready to be sent to the Edward Hines, Jr., hospital at Maywood.

The president, Mrs. Corabel George, asked that some work be taken up for child welfare. This will be for the World War children at Normal.

SEN. WATSON IN PLEA TO FARMER TO STAY LOYAL

Says There Is No Reason For Republican Farmer to Join Dems.

Corydon, Ind., July 20—(AP)—A plea to the Republican farmer to stick to his party in the coming elections was made today by Senator Watson in an address prepared for delivery at a political rally here.

Senator Watson's speech was delivered here today by Maurice Robinson of Anderson, Indiana, who in 1926 was winner of the national intercollegiate oratorical contest.

"The senior Indiana Senator was unable to meet with the Indiana Republican editors at West Baden and Corydon because of an eye infection. A cinder lodged in his left eye while enroute recently from Washington to Indianapolis."

The Indiana Senator who was a candidate himself for the Presidential nomination, argued that the equalization fee which he so firmly advocated and still believes in was not favored by either party in their platforms and asked, assuming both platforms were similar in general, why a Republican farmer should go to the Democrats for relief.

Commenting on the fact that President Coolidge had vetoed the McNary-Hagen bill including the fee provision, he declared that the action of the President "should not stand for the act of the entire party."

While still professing faith in the economic soundness of the fee principle, he advised farmers to expect some measure to aid agriculture that does not contain this provision.

"The Republican National Convention was decidedly against it," he added.

"Thus the last party declaration is one of opposition to it, so that for the present campaign the equalization fee is out of it so far as the Republican party is concerned."

THE IMPOSSIBLE THINGS.

The impossible things are the things that need to be done. So says the Rev. Henry H. Tweedy of Yale University in an address to the graduating class of Lake Erie College for Women.

The rise of civilization, the speaker points out, is the story of man's increasing accomplishment of the impossible. For most impossibilities are only imaginary; they seem impossible, and we accept them as such, until some very energetic or skeptical man comes along and does them.

There are a great many obvious illustrations. When Morse was experimenting with the telegraph there doubtless were many friends to tell him the thing was impossible. While the Wright brothers were making their first flight, a distinguished Washington scientist was proving, mathematically, that flight in a heavier-than-air machine was impossible. When Ford established a minimum wage of $5 a day there were plenty of people who knew it was impossible to run a business that way.

Of all the problems now confronting the world, nothing is much greater than the problem of warfare. In the old days, when wars were conducted by relatively small armies, a war was not a major matter necessarily. Now, however, war affects everyone. The last war very nearly bankrupted European civilization. It left the victors little better off than the vanquished.

Airplanes, submarines, poison gas, modern explosives have widened war's scope tremendously. If another war comes, involving as many nations as the last, it is quite possible that the entire world would be plunged into the dark ages.

It is up to the world to find some way of avoiding wars. But every time that is suggested, someone is sure to say: "Oh, you can't ever do that. You can't change human nature."

Yet that is precisely what must be done. It is one of the impossibilities that this generation must accomplish. Human nature, of course, can be changed; it has been changed vastly in the last few centuries. Compare the ways and customs of medieval Europe with our own, if you don't believe it; it was "human nature" to do a great many things, in those days, which no sane man would think of doing now.

We must do it. The world's future will be pretty dark if we fail.

Statistics of the American Motorist Association show that the average motorist pays $1 a day to operate his car. Surely that does not include the cost of the horn?

A small cannon, fitted to a sun dial, is still used as an alarm clock by the Sultan of Morocco. Just the thing for city council.

Congress passed 923 new laws during the session just adjourned. Leaving out tax reduction and Muscle Shoals, go ahead and name two of our new laws. Neither can we.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNUCK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tynymites then thanked the fish, and Clowdy said, "I only wish that we could take you with us. If you'll say so, we will try." The fish then snapped, "Oh, mercy no; I'm sorry, but I cannot go. If I am taken from this stream I know that I will die."

And then the fish swam out of sight, and Clowdy said, "Say, he's all right. I hope that what he told us 'bout the big tree trunk is true. He said it wasn't far from here and that it held a crock. Oh, dear, I wonder if we'll find the tree. I'll tell you what let's do."

"Let's all begin to look around, and if it's near it will be found." And then the Tynymites scattered, and they all looked high and low. In half an hour they all thought, "Gee, we simply cannot find that tree." Then Clowdy cried, "Ah, there's a hill. Up to the top we'll go."

They all ran up the little hill and then there came the day's first thrill.

"Oh, look!" cried Carpy, "straight ahead and quite a monstrous tree. It's just the one we're looking for. Come on." And off the whole bunch tore, as Clowdy said, "If Carpy's right, how happy we will be."

They thought it wouldn't take them long to reach the tree, but they were wrong. Of course you know that distance is deceiving to the eye. The whole bunch then heard Clowdy say, "Why, that tree is a mile away, but let us keep on running. We will reach it by and by."

They soon arrived upon the spot, and Clowdy said, "Oh, gee, I'm hot. But I am glad we ran so fast. Can you see what I see?" The rest all looked, and sure enough they found the fish had pulled no bluff. A funny looking crock was sitting there inside the tree.

The Tynymites have a hard time getting the crock cork out in the next story.

CATARACT

By Vernon A. Chapman, M. D., Milwaukee, Wis.

Member Gorgas Memorial

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Gorgas Memorial, which has its headquarters at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

Cataract is not a film growing over the eye; it is inside the eyeball and is not a tumor or new growth.

The normal eyeball has within it a lens for focusing rays of light so as to throw a picture of what we are looking at upon the sensitive retina inside the eyeball. Just the same as your kodak or other camera has a lens in it so as to focus rays of light to throw a picture of whatever the camera is pointed at upon the sensitized plate or film within the camera box. That lens in your camera must be clear and transparent. If it is not, you get no picture because the rays of light cannot go through it and you get no picture of what your eye is pointed at, and in cataract that is just what happens. The lens in your eye has become cloudy and opaque. The rays of light cannot go through it to form the picture and the eye is blind.

The causes of cataract are not well known. It is known that an injury to the eye will often cause it. It is known that diabetes is often a cause.

There are many kinds of cataracts. They are often found in individuals who have apparently normal health in every other way. They are likely to form in the eyes of individuals past middle age; on the other hand babies are sometimes born with cataracts. The causes are probably some nutritional or developmental disturbances.

Blindness caused by cataracts can nearly always be corrected. In the early stages of formation sometimes proper treatment does some good. In the later stages operation brings back to the eye the ability to see; and to see well. If one must be completely blind, then blindness caused by cataracts is the best kind to have because it can be so satisfactorily cured.

One no longer needs to sit about, nearly blind by cataract, for years waiting for it to "ripen" so it can be removed. Whenever a cataract reduces the vision to so great an extent that the eye cannot be used for its work the cataract can be removed. Improved operative methods make this possible.

If your vision is failing your oculist can tell you what is causing it. If you are too far away from an oculist you can learn something about the probable presence of beginning cataract in your eye in the following manner:

Push a needle through a card. Close one eye firmly. Look towards clear daylight through the needle hole in the card held close to the other eye. If no cataractous process is present in that eye you should see nothing but clear daylight. If beginning cataract is present, you may see one or more spots, or lines, or streaks like spokes in a wheel.

ALL BUT TWO OF NATIONS ACCEPT
KELLOGG TREATYJapan Reported Ready to Agree to Signature of Pact

Washington, July 20.—(AP)—All but two of the fourteen nations to which Secretary Kellogg submitted his treaty for the renunciation of war have formally appraised the Washington government of their willingness to join in the compact.

Japan and Czechoslovakia alone remain to be heard from and the State Department has learned through diplomatic channels that they, too, are so favorably inclined that their acceptances may be expected within a few days.

No Changes in Text.

It is a source of particular gratification to Secretary Kellogg that none of the nations have suggested changes in the text of the draft treaty as revised and submitted together with his explanatory note on June 23. He is pleased, too, with the promptness with which the replies have been received.

The number of countries approving the pact was brought to an even dozen by the acceptance of Great Britain and the Dominions, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India, replies from whom were made public last night.

A note transmitted directly from Ottawa over the signature of W. L. Mackenzie King, Secretary of External Affairs, bespoke briefly the attitude of the Canadian government. Canada said, "cordially accepts the treaty as revised and is prepared to participate in its signature."

Serious Accident
What might have been a fatal accident occurred Friday afternoon at the Fred Bettendorff farm, south of town. Haymaking was in progress, and Mr. Bettendorff was driving a tractor, which was pulling a load of hay, and he was also leading a team of horses alongside of the tractor. Wilbur Dysart was standing on the load of hay. A strap from the team caught in the tractor wheel, so Mr. Bettendorff stopped the tractor quickly, and the sudden stopping caused Mr. Dysart to fall from the load of hay. The driver of the tractor jumped to help Mr. Dysart, succeeding in pushing his head from the path of the wheel, but sustaining several broken ribs and painful bruises in so doing. Mr. Bettendorff was taken immediately to the Dixon hospital, where his injuries were examined and treated. Mr. Dysart received many painful bruises and one leg was severely hurt when the wagon passed over it, but he was able to resume his work in the hay field on Monday. Mr. Bettendorff was taken home from the hospital Tuesday but will not be able to do much work for some time as he was more seriously hurt than Mr. Dysart.

Kidnaped—He Saved Himself

When abductors snatched 4-year-old Billy McAllister, of Miami, Fla. from his bed, wrapped him in a blanket and locked him in the closet of an empty house, they neglected to remove an empty bottle which had been tossed into Billy's prison. While frantic relatives were preparing to forfeit the $8000 ransom which had been demanded, Billy began to pound an S. O. S. on the closet door, using the bottle for a hammer. The noise attracted the attention of persons living nearby. They broke in and rescued him. And here you have a scene from the reunion with his mother and grandmother.

THE FRANKLIN GROVE CLUB of Chicago

The twenty fifth annual reunion of the Franklin Grove club of Chicago was held in Garfield park Saturday, July fourteenth, with sixty present.

The day was beautiful and cool and the park presented a very picturesque appearance as these old friends from the old home town of Franklin Grove began to assemble. Some who have met with us for many years being absent having moved from Chicago since our last meeting. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pense have moved to Denver and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wicker to Granite Bay, Calif. We missed the jovial, genial presence of our good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Effie Maguire. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller were absent and we missed their cordial handshake and smile of good will. George Buck who has been with us for many years was absent and we missed his jolly story and his jovial laugh. We were most happy to have that famous mayor of Willmette, Earl Orner and his wife with us again. The Misses Alice and Marie Roche are always with us, it would not be a Franklin Grove picnic without them.

Frank and Will McGregor who supervise things and do it just right were there. The four Blocher men whose musical voices were enjoyed once more by their old friends in the singing, our two genial friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Leet, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dow who seldom disappoint us by being absent. We were most happy to have a number of new friends present.

A most delicious dinner was served under the supervision of Mrs. Foxcroft and Mrs. Guy. There being an abundance of the best of foods such as these ladies of the club know how to prepare.

A very interesting address was given by Mrs. Fred Dow on her recent trip abroad. We always enjoy listening to this talented speaker, who in her talks of her travels, takes her audience with her to the interesting places she visits.

In the quiet coolness of the evening of this perfect day these old friends talked over the past as they lived in the old home town. Many times the laughter at the recital of some school day prank rang out on the evening air. An old picture taken of our club group in 1909 was most thoroughly enjoyed. The day ended by singing America and God by with Harbor Springs and other points of interest.

The Woman's Club held their annual picnic Tuesday at the Camp Ground. A lovely picnic dinner was served at noon.

WATER GOLF

THIS IS ROMANTIC
If you have to wait too long from one FULL MOON to the next, console yourself with today's puzzle—it makes 'em to order! Par is six and one solution you may be able to beat is on page 9.

FULL

THE RULES
1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEW, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEW.

2—You can change only one letter at a time.

3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

One solution is printed on page 9.

TILDEN'S SPIRIT AND ADVICE HELP YANKEE PLAYERS

Hennessey Sensation in Victory Over Ace of Italians

BULLETIN

Paris, July 21—(AP)—Samuel H. Colom, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, has reserved the right to nominate Bill Tilden for the Davis Cup challenge round despite the ineligible ruling and so advised New York officials according to reliable sources.

Roland Garros Stadium, Auteuil, France, July 21—(AP)—Americans today defeated Italy in the interzone final of Davis Cup play and thereby won the right to play the French holders of the cup here beginning next Friday in the challenge round for the trophy.

The American victory, without the services of Bill Tilden was scored in straight sets and straight matches. The American doubles team of George Lott and John Hennessey won the deciding match today by defeating the Italians, Edoardo Giamberini and Placido Gaslini, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2. America won the first two singles matches in impressive style yesterday.

Just as did Francis T. Hunter and Hennessey in defeating the same two Italian players in the singles yesterday, the Americans today played as though inspired by the loss of their captain, Bill Tilden, who was declared ineligible for play on the eve of this important contest and was forced to be content to look on from the stands.

The rapidity and decisiveness with which the Americans team rolled the formidable Italian team built around the veteran de Mompurgo far exceeded the highest hopes of American supporters. With Tilden out, the Italian had been heavily favored to win the coveted chance to battle the French for the cup.

Just 48 minutes were required by Lott and Hennessey to defeat the Italian doubles pair and clinch America's right to enter the challenge round. The remaining two singles matches in which Hunter meets de Mompurgo and Hennessey plays Gaslini will be played as scheduled tomorrow, but they cannot affect the result as the Americans now have won the required three matches out of five.

Paris, July 21—(AP)—America's erstwhile Davis Cup captain, Bill Tilden, has been forced to the sidelines by ineligibility, at least for the interzone finals, but his spirit as well as the result of his teachings have left sufficient impetus to make the United States still a formidable competitive factor in Davis Cup play. The sweeping braces of triumph over the Italians in the opening day of interzone play not only virtually assured the Yankees a place in the challenge round against France a week hence with or without Tilden, but produced a new singles sensation in Smiling John Hennessey.

The Indianapolis youth's overthrow of the much feared Baron H. J. de Mompurgo in straight sets revealed the American as a consummate strategist and stroking machine close to the standard of Rene La Coste of France.

Credit to Tilden

Tilden's counsel and coaching are credited with much of Hennessey's improvement this year.

But as Big Bill himself put it: "Take no credit away from John. He may have been well advised as to generalship and type of game but only his own efforts and braininess put it over."

"Hennessey's play was superb in credit to the most precious thing you have. Money can be had by various means but CREDIT comes only from years of honesty and prompt meeting of bills when they are due."

every particular especially in view of the fact that he had to pull himself out of bad holes in the first two sets. "De Mompurgo undoubtedly was affected by his fall in the second set when he was going well. He was more badly hurt than was indicated but I doubt whether this affected the result by more than two games. The breaks of nine decisions were about even although the Baron appeared more upset than John over them."

Echoing Tilden's sentiments, tennis critics highly praised Hennessey's showing against the ace of the Italian forces whose hopes are all but dashed by the result. They now must win all three remaining matches to capture the tie.

What Averages of Leagues Show

New York, July 21—(AP)—Despite the ups and downs of the Braves, Rogers Hornsby has set such a withering pace for the batsmen of John Heydler's circuit that he seems in a fair way to recover the championship crown which he wore for six successive seasons as a member of the Cardinals. The latest averages, issued today and including games of last Wednesday, show the Rajah tapping the ball for a mark of 398 in 77 engagements.

Paul (Big Poison) Waner in second place with a mere 374 for 81 games, but he has been showing a stubborn persistence in doing what he can to reduce the margin between himself and Hornsby—and with some success in the last few weeks.

Pitching honors still rest with Larry Benton of New York, who has won fifteen games and lost only four for a percentage of .789. Benton also has hurled eighteen complete games, and leads the league by an Irish mile in this respect. Burleigh Grimes of the Pirates also has won fifteen decisions, but he has lost eight, and is rated no higher than .652.

Carl Mays, with four victories and one defeat for .800, is the nominal leader of the pitchers, but has worked in only five games.

With the exception of individual batting and pitching, the St. Louis

Just Before the Battle

Helen Wills, queen of our particular courts, is here shown at Wimbledon, England, with her most recent opponent, Senorita de Alvarez, Spanish champion. By defeating the Spanish title holder, Miss Wills again won the women's singles championship of the world.

Cardinals have practically a monopoly upon the various individual titles. The field breaks through only in home runs where Hack Wilson of Chicago has a clear margin with 22, however Jim Bottomley, of the Cards is a close second with twenty.

Following Hornsby and Paul Waner in individual batting are regulars: Grantham, Pittsburgh, .366; Bottomley, St. Louis, .359; Lindstrom, New York, .353; Reese, New York, .351; Dougherty, St. Louis, .345; Sisler, Boston, .342; Rootger, St. Louis, .341, and Herman, Brooklyn, .340.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chicago, July 21—(AP)—Statistics, the court of last resort to settle baseball arguments, so far prove the critics who deride Yankee pitchers as weak but saved solely by heavy hitting, are all wrong.

For not only do the Yankee batsmen drive home more runs than any team in the American League, but the Huggins are the hardest to score against. And his is true despite the fact the team is sixth in hitting.

Unofficial averages for the junior circuit up to and including games of Wednesday show the Yankees have been scored against only 371 times or 426 runs a game. During the season, they have shored over 6:05 runs each contest on an average. Philadelphia, which has held the league leadership for fewest opponent scores, is second with 376 runs scored against it in 86 games as against New York's 87.

Five of the leading ten pitchers in the American League thus far are Yankees. Alvin Crowder, of the Browns still leads the field of hurlers, however, stacking up two more victories during the week to hike his season's record to 11 won and 1 lost. Waite Hoyt of the Yanks is second with 12 won and 2 lost.

While the leading batters slumped considerably during the week, "Goose" Goslin of Washington still led the field with an average of .394. The ten leading batsmen: Goslin, Washington, .394; Gehrig, New York, .370; Simmons, Philadelphia, .369; Lazzari, New York, .357; Manush, St. Louis, .343; E. Miller, Philadelphia, .340; Morgan, Cleveland, .338; and Myer, Boston, .338; Koenig, New York, and Fox, Philadelphia, .331 each.

Activities in Challenger's Camp

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

Fairhaven, N. J.—Without all the free and loose conversation about what is going to happen to Gene Tunney when he gets into the ring in the Yankee Stadium, it would be difficult to find any subjects for powerful literary pieces around the training camp of Tom Heeneys. It is difficult to say in more ways than one and tiresome to keep repeating it that Heeneys is a nice fellow, and

HEALTH DIET ADVICE

Why the Best Way to Health

QUESTIONS IN REGARD TO HEALTH & DIET WILL BE ANSWERED BY DR. FRANK MCCOY WHO CAN BE REACHED BY TELEPHONE OR BY MAIL. ENCLOSED FIND ADDRESS ENVELOPE FOR REPLY. NAME IN FULL MUST BE GIVEN.

Dr. McCoy Los Angeles specialist, will gladly answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Telegraph. Enclose stamped, addressed, large envelope for reply.

Dr. McCoy's menu suggested for the week beginning Sunday, July 22:

SUNDAY:

Dinner—Jellied tomato bouillon, served in cubes, roast veal, asparagus, baked grated carrots, celery, ripe olives, pineapple whip.

MONDAY:

Breakfast—French omelet made of the whites of two eggs and two ounces of milk, served on Melba toast, pear sauce.

Lunch—Watermelon as desired.

Dinner—Boiled fresh beef tongue, cooked celery, spinach, salad of shredded raw cabbage, baked apple a la mode.

TUESDAY:

Breakfast—Wholewheat muffins, peanut butter, stewed prunes.

He is so calm and unconcerned about the business at hand that one cannot help but picture him as acting with the ambition—"I'll get those 200 grand, buy myself a pub at home and sit down for the rest of my days." But still, those quiet fellows run deep and you never can tell. And it sounds better than Sharkey.

The personality of Heeneys seems so drab and colorless perhaps because he cannot lend himself to the ballyhoo. He has to have someone of his managerial staff at his elbow all the time, and you get the idea that they fear he might say something that would queer the works.

He makes himself more accessible to the journalists than Tunney does, and he talks a lot but never says anything. The reporter can usually get some kind of a story out of Tunney when he does penetrate into the regal presence, but when the reporter leaves Heeneys he finds himself with that tough problem—what the devil did he say?

Eddie Harvey, the brother of his American manager, says he is the nicest and queerest bird he ever has been around. But they can't get him to say anything. He has none of the Dempsey instincts of a showman and positively no appreciation of the value of publicity.

"We have to be with him all the time or he will pull something," Harvey said. "We told him one day that if anyone asked him about the Prince of Wales to say that he had received a letter from him saying that he would be over for the fight. And to practice we had a stranger put it to him. And what did the bloke come back with? He said, 'The Prince, I'm? What the blimey would he be doing coming over for that?'" change to new habits even though they may be good ones.

The willingness to experiment with new ideas is a crowning glory of human achievement. There was a time when one who attempted to change from an established custom was looked upon as an heretic and was shunned by other members of the tribe.

Many people fall into the habit of drifting into a certain groove of thinking and they fail to realize their hidden powers. As is related in a Hindoo fable there was once a lioness who while heavy with young, went about in search of food. She fell upon a flock of sheep, but the exertion brought about her death. While yet dying, a young lion was born to her and grew up with the sheep, all the time thinking he was a sheep. He learned to nibble grass and to feel like the rest of the flock, frisking about and playing with green peas, salad of sliced tomatoes, ice cream (small portion).

Girl, 5, Piano Player, Never Took Lesson

Five year old Lillian Mae Caze of Evansville, Ind., never had a music lesson, but she can play any piece she has ever heard on the piano. Her mother says no one in either parent's family displayed any such talent. Lillian Mae doesn't know how she does it herself. "My fingers just go to the right place—I don't know why," she says. The little girl has been playing almost ever since she was able to stand. One Sunday, after church, she amazed her parents by playing a hymn that they had heard that morning. She listens to pieces on the radio and sits down and plays them.

LOVE FOR TWO

RUTH DEWEY GROVES © 1928 By NEA Service Inc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED BERTIE LOU, WARD married ROD HRYER, who had previously been engaged to LILA MARSH. They spend an ideal honeymoon and the only shadow on the bride's happiness is Lila's persistence in broadcasting to their friends that she was Rod's first love.

A splendid position in New York is offered Rod by TOM FRASER and he accepts. Anxious to make a good impression, they go to an expensive hotel until they can find an apartment. This seems to antagonize LILA FRASER, who urges Bertie Lou to buy more than she can afford. Rod wins money from Tom at poker and, feeling under obligation to them, recklessly invites the crowd to a night club. Bertie Lou scolds him for the extravagance and they quarrel. However, this trouble is forgotten in the rush of moving into their new apartment.

Lila surprises them by marrying a rich MR. LOREE whom she had met at their night club party. She asks Bertie Lou to forgive her past unkindness and be friends, with so much sincerity that she cannot be denied. But keeping up appearances with people who have as much money to spend as the Frasers and the Lorees is a severe strain on Rod and Bertie Lou. Rod becomes discouraged and Lila grasps her chance to offer sympathy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XX

"THERE couldn't be any place for my thoughts in your head," Rod replied quizzically and hardly with a smile. The smiling came readily enough, though, to Lila's curmish lips. She caught the hint that sounded in his words and voice—the hint that she lacked the power of understanding. The smile crept up to her eyes, an inscrutable smile.

"You don't want a drink, do you?" she asked, in a negative-inviting tone.

Rod shook his head. "Come in here, then," she said, and turned toward the drawing room door, her hand still on his arm. She had left the door open, but now she closed it behind them.

There was a friendly fire and an incredibly comfortable looking sofa before it. Lila led Rod over to it and pushed him down upon the cream and gold satin cushions.

"Here," she offered cigarettes in a ivory box.

A golden lamp revealed that Rod's hand shook slightly when he held a lighted taper to the tobacco.

"Losing sleep," Lila commented aloud.

"Up too much," Rod acknowledged.

"Do you really think that wealth makes a person free of all worry?" she asked suddenly.

Rod turned his head to look at her. She had spoken with a touch of depression in her voice.

"Even a golden crown must carry a few thorns," she went on as he did not speak. "It is not impossible for me to understand your troubles, Rod, if they are concerned with money. My memory is not—short," she added with a significant pause. "Perhaps there are many places in my mind that once were filled with the same thoughts that you're glooming over out there in the hall."

"Well, you found a way out of your troubles," Rod said banteringly, "assuming that they were the same as mine."

"You mean my marriage," Lila returned quietly. "And you're right, Rod. Abracadabra couldn't have done more for me."

"Who's he?" They both laughed. "But if you really don't know," Lila explained, "it's a magic word. And it can help you, too."

"Is that so? I suppose you captured it in a dictionary or a crossword puzzle and dragged it to the altar with you to do its stuff. But "Did Bertie Lou ever tell you how I had to get down on my knees and beg her to accept me as a friend?" she asked quietly.

you see I'm already wed. Old Ad couldn't do a thing for me."

LILA did not answer him at once. Bertie Lou and another girl were opening the door. Lila saw them in the mirror over the mantelpiece.

"Men can make money," she said, motioning over her shoulder for the new arrivals to join them on the sofa.

The other girl turned back to the library but Bertie Lou remained. The conversation among them had already passed, however, for guests were now arriving rapidly and Lila had to give up her place beside Rod.

Later in the evening she found another chance for a talk with him. A well-known Broadway entertainer was giving imitations of famous stars and everyone was crowded into the drawing room. Lila and Rod stood near the door.

Presently, under cover of the stir at the end of a particularly clever and mirth-provoking sketch, she drew him into the hall. "I must give an order to Wilkins," she said. "Come with me, will you?"

Rod was in no mood for comedy. He did not mind leaving the drawing room. Lila led him into the library. "Wait here a minute," she told him. "I'd better go out to the pantry. Look around. You may find a cup of punch left."

Rod went over to a chair by a window that someone had opened. LILA was back in a few minutes. "How would you like some

He hadn't meant to tell his troubles to Lila or anyone else. How the devil had it come about?

Lila's eyes were filled with satisfaction. "But I've told you that I haven't forgotten what tight holes I used to be in half the time over money," she said, a bit impatiently. "I know you must be having a bad time, Rod. And it's so utterly unnecessary, too, because Cyrus will give you a good job any time you want it."

ROD frowned. Bertie Lou had spoken of the same thing not long ago as a future possibility. He'd flatly told her that was one thing he wasn't going to do. And without the necessity of plain spoken words both had understood that he meant he would not accept a position from the husband of a girl who had thrown him over.

"Let's get back to the show," he said, putting the glass down on a smoking stand. Lila pressed a hand on his chest to keep him from rising.

"You see," she jibed at him, "Bertie Lou is a better friend. I'm sorry, because I thought you were so happy with her that you couldn't hold the past against me."

"I don't," Rod said shortly. "No offense, Lila, since you're so happy with Cy, but I owe you a lot for giving me the gate."

A flicker, too brief to betray its meaning, came to Lila's eyes and was gone. "Then why, if I'm meaningless to you, should you refuse a position from Cy?" she asked.

Rod squirmed. She saw that and laughed at him. "Don't be foolish, Rod. You have a right to be happy. Heaven knows you and Bertie Lou are like two cuckoo doves. But you can't enjoy life without any money, not here in New York and with the friends you've got."

Rod groaned. "I'm always telling Bertie Lou we don't belong with you and Cy and the rest of 'em."

"And Bertie Lou has too much sense to listen to you. No, Rod, you're double crossing yourself somewhere. I could understand how you'd feel about it if you were still in love with me. But you say you're not. And you know that the lack of money is turning you into a joyless old foggy and yet you won't accept your chance to give Bertie Lou the things all women want."

ILLINOIS RADIO STATIONS ARGUE FOR EXISTENCE

Six Stations Among Many Ordered to Cease Operating

Washington, July 20 — (AP)—Protests from six Illinois radio stations are on file with the Federal Radio Commission today following receipt of notices to withdraw from the air August 1 because they have been held out of public necessity.

The stations covered in the termination order are: LaSalle—WJBC, Streator—WTAX, Springfield—WCBS, Chicago—WHFC, WMBB and WOK.

An offer to merge the LaSalle and Streator stations was made yesterday by Don F. Reed, their attorney, in event the commission refused to grant licenses to them as separate units. Reed, on behalf of WJBC, offered statements from St. Bede's and St. Benedictine's colleges purporting to show valuable services rendered by the station to the community.

The largest of the stations, WMBB, with a 5000 watt transmitter, offered an affidavit by Harold A. Moore, treasurer of the American Bond and Mortgage Company, which operates the station, which said that the company had a capital and surplus of $10,000,000 and was therefore able to operate the station on a continuous high plane.

Other stations pointed out their features, and broadcasting of community events as reasons for their continued existence.

Altogether 161 stations throughout the country have been cited to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked.

Who's Who in Dogdom—No. 4

Pug Dog Soon May Be Extinct as the Dodo

There is not a dog show where the customers do not ask, "What has become of the Pug?"

At one time the Pug was the most popular dog in the United States. Now the Pug is almost as extinct as the Dodo. In a few years there probably will not be another Pug dog in the country.

The reason is the change in style of dogs. A number of years ago the Alredale held the peak in popularity. Later it was the Chow. Now it is the Shepherd, better known as the German Police Dog. Soon it will be another breed, perhaps the Doberman Pinscher. No single breed of dog can keep top place in the popularity contest for more than five years; at least, no breed ever has.

The Pug came from China. It was associated with the nobility. Its appearance was dignified although the dog did lack the intelligence of some of the other breeds.

at the Amboy hospital, is improving as well as could be expected from her recent operation.

All short-faced varieties of dogs lack intelligence to a certain degree. English and French Bulldogs and Pekingeses are prominent short-faced varieties. The Pug was short-faced, like the Pekingeses. The Pug is said to have descended from the smooth-coated Pekingeses.

Nearly all the Pugs that our fathers owned or knew were black. The original color was fawn. Forty years ago the first black Pugs appeared. They were secured by taking fawn-colored Pugs to China and crossing them with blacks. It has always been said that the fawns were crossed with black Pekingeses.

So the Pug, once the most beloved and popular of all dogs in the United States, was an out and out Chinese dog.

The Pug has passed and some future generation may ask "What's become of the Alredale?" or the Chow, the French Bulldog, or any other breed.

TWO DROWNED AS SHIP SINKS U. S. PATROL CUTTER

Steamship Rams Patrol Boat in Dense Fog: Five Rescued

Cape May, N. J., July 20—(AP)—Two coast guardsmen were drowned and five rescued today when the steamship Culbertson sank Coast Guard Patrol Boat No. 113 in a thick fog off the Delaware capes.

The dead are: B. F. Haines, motor machinist's mate, first class, Pleasantville, N. J. D. T. Hale, motor machinist's mate, second class, Atlanta, Ga.

According to the story told by the survivors Delaware Bay was covered by a dense fog and the CG-113 was proceeding slowly along on patrol duty. Suddenly out of the mirk loomed the high bow of the freighter. It struck the seventy-five foot government boat squarely amidship, cutting it in half as though with a giant knife.

The two missing men were in the engine room and are believed to have been rendered unconscious by the force of the impact while the other five were hurled into the sea.

Particular men and women include always a box of Healo in their toilet articles. Healo is sold by all druggists.
